Hermes Medical Solutions changes lives with innovative molecular imaging

"Avnet Integrated and HPE are great partners in that they always want to provide the best solution for our needs."

– Per Thyr, Vice President of System Development, Hermes Medical Solutions

HERMES MEDICAL SOLUTIONS

AVNET INTEGRATED

Nuclear medicine employs a variety of scanning methods using molecular radioactivity administered to the patient. In partnership with Avnet Integrated and HPE OEM Solutions, Hermes Medical Solutions delivers its molecular imaging software, Hermia, which brings together all types of scans, regardless of camera brand or imaging procedure, into an all-in-one environment. The solution improves consistency of scan results to improve quality in patient management and decision support.

Objectives

- Reduce complexity for physicians using multiple molecular radioactivity scans
- Improve accuracy and consistency of scan results for better decision support
- Enable Hermes Medical Solutions to focus 100% on software development

Requirements

- Hardware that delivers consistently high imaging performance regardless of scan type
- Flexible supply chain logistics to support global expansion
- Full hardware support from procurement through configuration and shipping

Solution

- All-in-one molecular imaging software suite running on HPE ProLiant servers

Hardware

- HPE ProLiant DL380 Gen10 Servers
- HPE ProLiant DL360 Gen10 Servers
- HPE ProLiant DL180 Gen10 Servers
