Transforming healthcare with patient-centered outcomes

"We can be more responsive now, which means treatments and interventions are being provided a lot faster. Patients who subscribe to our service are connected through devices monitoring vitals. This enables caregivers and doctors to take proactive action to prevent adverse events."

–Sreeji Gopinathan, Chief Information Officer, Lupin Limited

LUPIN

Lupin Limited's rise from a modest vitamin maker to a $2 billion healthcare enterprise highlights its trailblazing impact. Known for affordable medicines, the company has evolved into a holistic care provider with a strong focus on patient well-being. By embracing digital connectivity, advanced analytics, and secure private cloud integration, Lupin drives faster medical interventions and streamlined operations, resulting in significantly improved access to care and better patient outcomes.
